Notice of Privacy Practices

We excel at getting you well

The Department of Health and Human Services has established a "Privacy Rule" to help insure that personal healthcare information is protected for privacy. The Privacy Rule was also created in order to provide a standard for certain healthcare providers to obtain their patients' consent of uses and disclosures of health information about the patient to carry out treatment, payment, or healthcare operations.

As our patient we want you to know that we respect the privacy of your personal medical records and will do all we can to secure and protect that privacy. We strive to always take reasonable precautions to protect your privacy. When it is appropriate and necessary, we provide the minimum necessary information to only those we feel are in need of your healthcare information and information about treatment, payment or healthcare operations, in order to provide healthcare that is in your best interest.

We also want you to know that we support your full access to your personal medical records. We may have indirect treatment relationships with you (such as laboratories that only interact with physicians and not patients), and may have to disclose personal health information for purposes to treatment, payment, or healthcare operations. These entities are most often not required to obtain patient consent.

You may refuse to consent to the use or disclosure of your personal health information, but this must be in writing. Under this law, we have the right to refuse to treat you should you choose to refuse to disclose your Protected Health Information (PHI).

If you have any objections to this form, please ask to speak with our HIPAA Compliance Officer.

You have the right to review our privacy notice, to request restrictions and revoke consent in writing after you have reviewed our privacy notice. You may not revoke actions that have already been taken which relied on this or a previously signed consent.
